Chris has a Bachelor Degree in Business, is a professional videographer and is a seasoned waterproofing professional. He has a great understanding of the importance of a dry basement having been involved with many home improvement projects and seeing many wet basements.

He put his expertise in video editing to good use by creating over 100 product and company videos for Basement Systems and their dealers in 2004 & 2005. He was so impressed at witnessing how truly grateful customers were to have their water problems solved that has dedicated his career to helping homeowners.

Chris and the entire Connecticut Basement Systems team uphold the stringent quality standards of their company.
